René Myers is the mission engagement advisor for the West region, which includes the synods of Alaska-Northwest, Pacific, Southern California & Hawaii and the Southwest.

“It is a blessing to connect with people who feel called to make a difference for God’s people throughout the world and share stories of how the Presbyterian Mission Agency partners with our congregations and members to make that difference,” René says.

René joined the PMA staff in 2011, bringing a history of deep church involvement as well as professional experience in both the non-profit and corporate worlds. She has been the director of development for a community non-profit agency and a consultant with a firm that assists congregations with capital campaigns and stewardship development. She also served for 15 years in various management positions with Hewlett-Packard Company.

A graduate of Colorado State University, René earned a B.S.B.A. degree with a concentration in accounting.

René attends Woodland Hills Presbyterian Church in Woodland Hills, California, where her husband, Bruce, is interim pastor. She serves in stewardship leadership for Riverside Presbytery and is a regional board member of Soroptimist International of the Americas, a volunteer service organization that seeks to improve the lives of women and girls in their communities and throughout the world.

René and Bruce, and their daughter, Rachel, reside in Fontana, California.
