

NEW COMMISSIONER

Welcome Booklet

2020-2021

Welcome to your first meeting of the Presbytery of Los Ranchos.

The presbytery understands itself to be a learning community. We hope this first-timer booklet will help you learn more about the presbytery's mission, its committees, and what to expect at this and future presbytery gatherings.

Inside you will find:

- Dates and locations of upcoming presbytery meetings
- Responsibilities and privileges of presbytery commissioners
- Privileges of visitors to a presbytery gathering
- Newly adopted Presbytery of Los Ranchos Mission statement
- Presbytery of Los Ranchos Organizational Chart
- Presbytery of Los Ranchos Committee and Team Descriptions
- Presbytery of Los Ranchos Moderators
- A list of presbytery and PC(USA) acronyms

The Presbytery Gathering Team (PGT) plans each presbytery gathering. Our goals are to:

- Gather God's people for worship.
- Accomplish the presbytery's business.
- Provide opportunities for learning.
- Sit at table and break bread with one another.
- Become a community of trust.
- Inspire and equip commissioners and congregations to work towards the kin-dom of God here and now.

Each gathering of the presbytery will be unique. The theme, time, location, schedule, and speakers will vary. However, every gathering will include the following components:

- Worship
- Learning – speakers, workshops or some combination thereof
- Meal
- Business meeting

The Presbytery of Los Ranchos is a community of people and congregations. We are God's gathered and disbursed people. We are a community, which seeks to support, care for and love one another. We are here to answer your questions, to help you understand what is happening during the meeting and in between meetings, and also to introduce you to your colleagues in ministry.

You are welcome here!

Commissioners to Presbytery with Voice and Vote

- All Teaching Elders of the Presbytery of Los Ranchos;
- Ruling Elders elected or assigned by their Session for the current year according to the Equalization Report approved at the February Presbytery meeting;
- Ruling Elders on Council; and
- Ruling Elders on Trustees;
- Certified Educators, if Ruling Elders, otherwise voice only.

Guidelines for Participating in Presbytery Meetings

- When speaking, please address the Moderator and not the body.
- Introduce yourself by stating your name and your church.
- Only enrolled commissioners are authorized to vote on issues.
- Enrolled commissioners include:
 - Ruling Elder commissioners chosen by their church as voting representative for Presbytery
 - All Teaching Elders who are members of Presbytery of Los Ranchos.
- Corresponding members are entitled to address the Presbytery. (Corresponding members are clergy who are members of the PCUSA but not our Presbytery)

All Commissioners should register for the presbytery gathering online at:

<http://losranchos.org/meet/presbytery-gathering/>

You can also reserve a meal when you register.

Visitors are always welcome at presbytery gatherings. Anyone who is not an enrolled Commissioner, or a Teaching Elder/Minister of Word and Sacrament member of the Presbytery of Los Ranchos is considered a visitor.

On the day of the gathering, please check-in at the lobby tables before entering the meeting room. You are asked to register your attendance as a voting member or visitor and receive a name badge.

You may also purchase meals at that time. Credit card processing of meal payments is available at the check-in table.

Newly Adopted Mission Statement

At our September 2019 Gathering, the Presbytery adopted a new mission statement. Prior to this meeting, representatives of the Generative Catalyst Team engaged in conversations with various groups throughout the presbytery asking for input. They found these gathering fruitful and clarifying. This final revision of the mission statement was endorsed by the Council and adopted on September 28, 2019.

“God calls the Presbytery of Los Ranchos to cultivate vital congregations and partnerships that embody the love and justice of Jesus Christ.”

Commentary on the Mission Statement

“God calls ...”

We began with God’s initiative, partly because our tradition has always insisted that the work of creation and redemption begin with God’s sovereign initiative.

“Presbytery of Los Ranchos”

We explored many nouns to use as our subject, such as “God calls us to be a community, a body, a family, a council, network, union, companions, friends, collective, etc.” In the end, we felt that the word “presbytery” names the kind of body that can have the fellowship that is important to us and point to the specific work we have of holding one another accountable.

“cultivate vital”

Using an “optometrist approach” we narrowed a large field of potential verbs to one that captures the kind of sowing, weeding, watering, and harvesting work that the presbytery can exercise in our work. The idea is that our presbytery intentionally cultivates vitality in congregations and partnerships, not that PLR’s mission is exclusively for those congregations and partnerships that would already identify as “vital.”

“congregations and partnerships”

Without repeating the term “flourishing congregations” which is found in our vision statement, and with sensitivity to the presbyters who practice ministry in contexts outside of traditional congregations, we opted to add the word “partnerships.”

“embody”

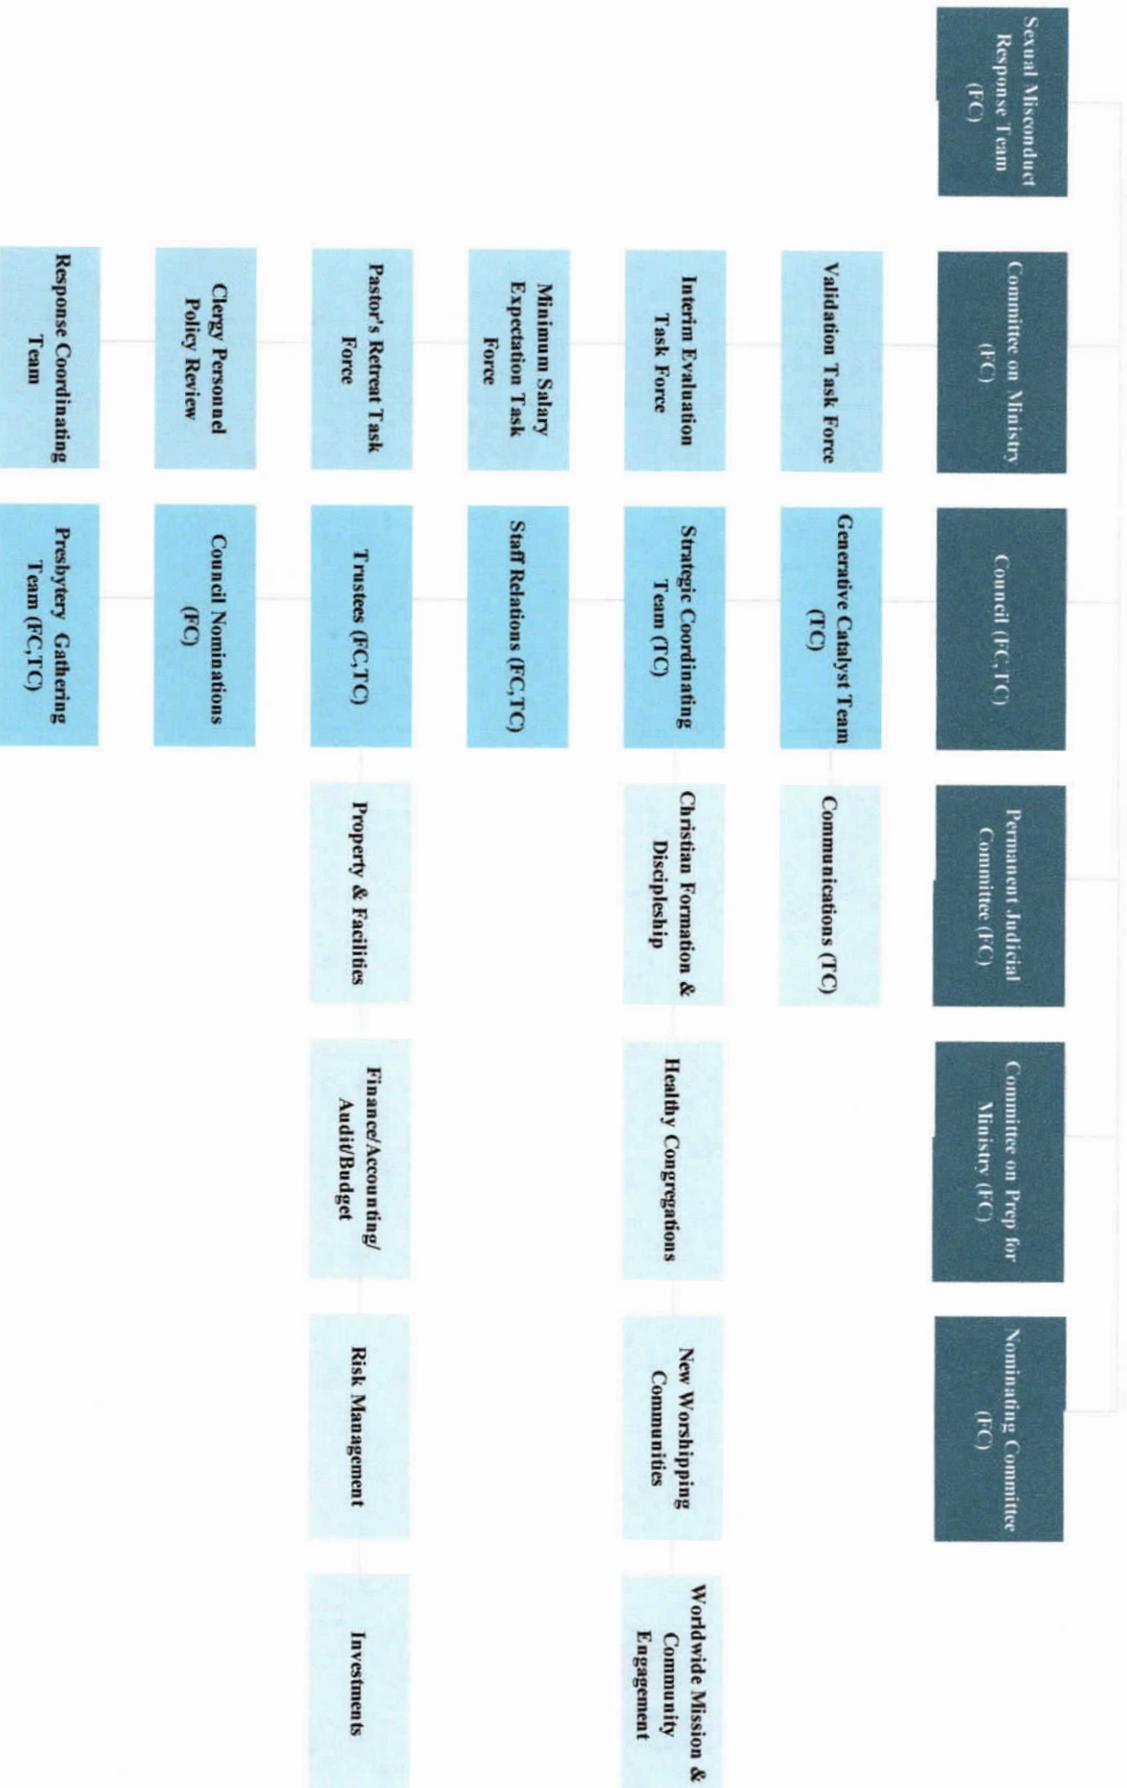

We were looking for a term that would name our faithfulness in being as well as in doing. What we do springs forth from our identity, values and calling as Reformed disciples of Jesus Christ.

“love and justice of Christ.”

We were looking for a way of naming the reign of God in plain and distinctive terms. The fact that the Mission Statement begins with God and ends with Christ was particularly meaningful for us. It was also important that the statement name the transforming work that the Church is called to initiate and do. The terms “love” and “justice” are found throughout scripture and are descriptive of the work we seek to embody as a presbytery.
